After months of evaluation and planning, the North Plains TSP update team would like to share our ideas for transportation improvements for the next 20 years. With the rapid growth in housing and commercial businesses the city expects in the next 20 years, the city will need to provide transportation improvements that ensures the city has safe travel options for pedestrians, bicycles, passenger vehicles, and freight.

On October 29th, the city will share the improvements that they will be investing in for the future. The recommended improvement projects will be on display for the community to review and provide feedback on. Stop by and see what the future of transportation in North Plains looks like.
